

Save the Date for the Army Mobility Systems Conference!

PD TIS will host the second annual Army Mobility Systems Conference at the Marriott City Center in Newport News, VA, from 25 to 28 April 2011. Once again TIS will co-sponsor this event with PM, Joint – Automatic Identification Technology (PM J-AIT); PD, Battle Command Sustainment Support System (PD BCS3); and PM, Movement Tracking Systems (PM MTS).

The purpose of this conference is to present a venue where a wide audience of end-users and customers can come together to discuss and collaborate on the connectivity and commonalities among the four systems and their respective missions.

Building on the first year's success, this conference will include program and technology updates, expanded system demonstrations, and multiple track sessions. New and expanded capabilities, products, and services will be featured to ensure attendees learn about the most relevant, effective resources available.

Registration is FREE but attendees must register in advance on-line. Please go to the PD TIS Web site to register www.tis.army.mil.
